

Public health working in partnerships

A development event for Directors of Public Health

Monday 20th February 2017

10:20 - 15.40

Queen Elizabeth II Centre, Gielgud room, Westminster, London, SW1P 3EE

Agenda

Chair: Prof Dame Sally C Davies, Chief Medical Officer

Facilitator: Mr George Binney, Ashridge

09.45 Registration and refreshments

10.20 Welcome and introduction

Dr Andrew Furber, President, ADPH
Prof Dame Sally Davies, CMO

10.30 Opening discussion

Discussion of BMJ 'Head to Head' article 'Are nanny states healthier states?'

Led by George Binney with

- Dr Steven Oliver, Senior Lecturer in Population Health, University of York and Hull York Medical School

11.00 Working in partnership with industry session

This session examines the ways in which partnerships with industry can be harnessed to deliver public benefit. It will cover issues such as:

- Regulation and reformation
- Partnering with industry in the media
- Politics of partnership / commercial collaboration

Session includes facilitated discussion with the audience.

Led by George Binney with:

- Dr Alison Tedstone, Deputy Director Diet and Obesity / Chief Nutritionist, Public Health England
- Speaker from UK food industry

12.30 Lunch

13.30 Health at work session

With reference to:

- Best practice
- Green paper on health at work
- Behavioural insights

Session includes facilitated discussion with the audience.

Led by Dr Gina Radford with:

- Dr Gina Radford, Deputy CMO
- Dr Max Henderson, Consultant Liaison Psychiatrist, Leeds and York Partnership NHS Foundation Trust

14.45 Tea break

15.00 Public health innovations – global practice

Session includes facilitated discussion with the audience.

Led by George Binney with:

- Dr Saba Hinrichs-Krapels, The Policy Institute at King's College London

15.40 Closing remarks

Dr Andrew Furber, President, ADPH
Prof Dame Sally Davies, CMO

15.50 Close

Room remains open for networking until 16:30