

ADPH New DsPH Workshop

Evaluation Summary

“I felt very supported as part of a new peer network.”

Overall the evaluations indicate that the workshop was highly valued by attendees. A total of 15 delegates attended, with 14 providing feedback. Of the evaluation forms submitted, 100% of respondents felt that the event was a good use of their time and that they had made some useful contacts.

Many attendees independently reflected that the day was reassuring, supportive, informative and energising. Aside from networking and discussions, which the majority of the respondents felt were the most useful parts of the day, the leadership style session, led by Rupert Suckling, was also highlighted as a strength. Delegates also valued Tracy Daszkiewicz’s ‘day in the life of a DPH,’ reflections as well as the practical, problem solving aspects of the workshop, led by Prof Jim McManus.

Many thanks to all those who attended the day, contributed to discussions and provided valuable feedback, which will inform our future planning of events for our members.
